Eagle X Trading LLC — South American Seafood Programs

Pricing is seasonal and subject to availability. Allocations are handled on a first come, first served basis. Secure production slots early by submitting your purchase orders.

IMPORTANT: Purchase Orders (POs) for seafood must be submitted prior to the start of harvesting in order to guarantee product availability and secure production allocation.

We strongly recommend coordinating all POs in advance with our sales team to ensure supply continuity and proper planning.

Order Notes:

- Each Purchase Order (PO) must meet the minimum quantity indicated above.
- Quantities correspond to typical container load planning for 40' reefer shipments.
- Mixed product containers may be discussed depending on program availability.
- Final allocation is subject to seasonal production and vessel schedules.

Shipment Terms

Minimum Order: 1 × 40' Reefer Container (FCL)

Estimated Container Load: 19,000 – 24,000 kg depending on product and packaging.

Incoterms: CIF to major U.S. ports.

FLOUNDER (Paralichthys spp.)

Flounder is a premium flatfish widely valued in both domestic and export markets. Known for its mild, delicate flavor and fine white flesh, it offers excellent versatility across retail and foodservice applications. Harvested using bottom trawl methods, Argentine flounder maintains consistent quality and is primarily exported as frozen interleaved fillets, while also consumed fresh in local markets.

Taste & Texture

- Mild, clean flavor with subtle sweetness
- Lean white meat with delicate, flaky texture
- Non-oily profile — not “fishy”
- Excellent plate presentation and consistency

Applications

Ideal for restaurants and retail programs. Performs exceptionally well in pan-searing, baking, broiling, grilling, and light frying. Common uses include:

- Flounder Meunière (butter & lemon)
- Breaded or battered fillets
- Fish tacos and sandwiches
- Premium plated dishes and fine dining

Nutritional Value

Low-calorie, high-protein lean fish: • 70–90 kcal per 100g

- 15–19g protein
- 1–3g fat (very low)
- Rich in Vitamin B12, Selenium, and Phosphorus
